A Dream And The Scarlet Thread

For your benefit, I am going to relate to you a spiritual dream I had well before the Bride revelation. It is a dream that I have recalled many times in my life, especially when I went through times of difficulty, including the loss of my family. I am sharing it here because the final outcome is most hopeful. And frankly, that dream is as real today as the day I was given it.

It began with me in an elegant theater with red velvet seating, plush red carpet, and subdued light. And suddenly, it completely filled with water and then large tentacles of many octopuses were trying to capture me as I thrashed around underwater, but they could not get me. And as fast as the water came in, it disappeared and I began walking out of the theater and the red carpet was soggy wet.

I proceeded out the front door of this elegant structure and stood on the sprawling front porch, when a man came walking towards me wearing a from-the-past diving helmet over his head, a diving suit, dragging an air hose behind him, and maybe had a knife in his hand. I looked at him as he entered the theater and thought, "Well, at least he knows what he's getting into." And by the way, he was going into Christianity, which this building represented, and from which I came out of.

The porch and the exterior of the theater were made of rich marble, having all the appearances of a Washington, D.C., structure in both size and grandeur. I then walked down the multiple front steps and continued forward down the sidewalk and proceeded to get into a car and drove away down a slight hill. But I was quickly in great trouble, for before me was a "T" intersection with a busy street and the light was red for me. Cars were whizzing down it in both directions, and suddenly the car I was in began to spin around and around like a top right into the intersection and turned left and then stopped. Amazingly, I made it through the intersection. I then got out of the car, walked across the street, and proceeding full circle began walking back up the grounds of the magnificent edifice I had just come out of—again, Christianity.

But something unique was now coming from it. The marble edifice was maybe a hundred yards in length, and from it I heard the sounds of large chains rattling. I lifted up my hands with my palms pointing to the back of the structure, and as I slowly began to move them to my left towards the front, there were the sounds of large metal doors being slammed as my palms swept by. Bam! Bam! Bam, they went! And with each sound of the closing doors, the chains grew silent, until there was complete silence. I knew that evil demons were being locked up! From there I continued back up to the building and up the side steps of the magnificent porch and then to the same spot where I had begun.

With that, once again I began walking down those same steps. But before I continue, please allow me to tell you more of the meaning of this. It is a testimony of my life that was laid before me, as well as a testimony of the church, the kingdom of God.

Briefly, concerning my life, the octopus tentacles trying to get me in the elegant theater was Christianity. And having come out of it, the spinning car that miraculously made it through the busy intersection when I had a red light, described my life and the multiple, multiple things that could have destroyed me in the years that followed in the Bride, including the loss of my family. But they did not destroy me. It is a wonder that I have even made it, many times thinking that I could be destroyed. And of course the demons and chains and the slamming doors all speak of the actions of Satan's demons in the church and them being bound. And this brings us back up to the steps.

From that same location, once again I went down the steps. But this time off to my left was a dark cave opening. I was going to go into it and knew there was evil in its darkness, and once again lifted up my palms before me and began my decent down into the darkness.

As I proceeded into the thick darkness, soon I realized that to my right there was a banister, and on the other side of it were gray statue-like figures of people who were frozen in various action stances as if life had suddenly halted for each one of them. I still had my hands up in front of me, and suddenly I could feel them reaching out and touching me on my right arm and were thereupon regaining their life. Regarding these, I do believe they are the beginning of the Bride who come to life out of a work of death.

At that time I saw a bright light before me, and upon approaching that area that was now brilliantly lit up, it was a large open chamber. Located on the back side of it was a platform about ten feet long and eight feet deep, and a foot and a half tall. Standing on it were the apostles who were in white robes. There were three rows from right to left, each with four men, as seen here—though one would be empty.

I walked over to the left and stepped up on the platform, passing between the last two men in the first row, and the same in the second row, and then in the last row I stepped into the twelfth place which was empty, completing the twelve. (Keep in mind, I knew nothing whatsoever about the Bride when this dream was given, and was not specifically aware of who these men were, what this meant, and the great significance of it. That would not come until years later with the revelation of the Bride.) There I turned around and stood with the eleven apostles, myself in the place of the twelfth. Obviously, this would be the place of Judas, who was always numbered as the twelfth apostle. And of course that office went to Satan. As testified by Moses at the burning bush, the staff turned into the serpent, Satan. The office of the twelfth apostle that was held by a man, turned into the serpent for two thousand years, and today has to go back to a man—the Elijah. This is the sign that causes belief in Exodus 4:1-5 for the people of Yahweh, and there is indeed a recent consistent testimony that this transition back to a man has now taken place.

In the Report "Lifting Up Others Higher Than Yourself," I shared the amazing and unique experience how I took a black snake by the tail, the end, and then cast it out of my yard. Moses took up the snake by the end and it turned back into the staff. It was not until the next day that I realized the correlation when Moses did the same, and do believe that that experience came to me in the natural as a testimony of that which has now taken place in the spiritual, in the heavenlies. And greatly affirming this, all of the terrible drama and violent deaths that had plagued us in Kenya since my third trip there in last December, suddenly ceased! And not has it just ceased, but since then the brothers have restored their teaching schedules, and positive progress and favor with the Kenyan government regarding my scheduled return trip there has proceeded.

I do believe that this could indeed be the testimony that the office of the twelfth apostle has now gone back to a man, and Satan has lost his place, which he has held ever since Judas hanged himself. And it would seem that Satan must now lift up the Mordecai on the King's horse and declare, "Thus it shall be done to the man whom the [K]ing desires to honor" (Esther 6:9). It could well be that with his loss of the office of the twelfth apostle, which he has held for two thousand years, he now has to fulfill the testimony of Esther 6 where, to his equal surprise, Haman (a clear type of Satan) has to exalt Mordecai in a way that he himself thought that he would be exalted.

What Satan has done for evil for two thousand years, he now has to do for good. And of course his doom is still fixed, even as it was with Haman, when his wife and his wise men declared:

"If Mordecai, before whom you have begun to fall, is of Jewish origin, you will not overcome him, but will surely fall before him" (vs. 13).

Amen! Haman was then hung on the fifty cubits gallows that he had built in order to hang Mordecai (7:9-10). And Satan too will now come to his "demise" and be chained in the abyss throughout the Millennial Reign. Now, let me tell you something that the Father has shown to me at this very time. It is amazing!

Let us rehearse once again what the office of the twelfth apostle is. It is the office that originated with Judas, who was always numbered as the twelfth. That office was first held by a man, Judas, but at the last supper before Yahshua's crucifixion, Satan very clearly entered into him (Luke 22:3, John 13:27). Satan possessed him and Judas went out and betrayed the Son of God for thirty pieces of silver, and afterwards hung himself. With this possession, Satan now held the office of the twelfth apostle. The apostles should have never cast lots to fill it; and with Satan's possession of that office, therein began the corruption of the church for two thousand years. BUT most assuredly, as with Haman in his last hours, it will actually work out for good. Let us see.

In the words of Satan himself, the kingdom of God came early. It was "before the time" (Matthew 8:29). Satan knew that Yahshua was not due until the seventh "day," the sabbath, and that he still had a legal right to another two thousand years. Wanting to insure that he got those remaining years, he thereby asked to be cast into the like two thousand swine (Christianity Mark 5:13). And upon receiving this affirmation, he then took all two thousand of the swine into the sea of death. Such has been the fate of swine

Christianity to this day. As swine they split the hoof, having the kingdom, but do not chew the cud—they cannot ascend into heaven and descend back to the earth. And this was the same fateful destiny attested by the son who equally received his inheritance too early and squandered it and ended up with the, none other than, swine (Luke 15:11-24). The kingdom equally came early, and it too went to the swine—Christianity.

So, Satan has had a right to take kingdom man to death for two thousand years. And what now has to happen to the kingdom? The reality is that the kingdom went to the first Remnant for a year and a half, and it then breached for two thousand years with Christianity under the headship of Satan, and now has to return to the fulfilling second Remnant, thus affording the critical covenant pattern of: Bride—Body of Christ—Bride.

But let us look at this closer. Judas had the office of the twelfth apostle, which in truth is for the Elijah who ascends alive. But as the first-bird work of Leviticus 14, he had to fail and die, paying the price so that the second-bird work, the Elijah, could ascend alive. And as noted, Satan occupies that breach period, and is identified with the color red, or scarlet.

Judas—scarlet Satan—Elijah

Additionally, this is the same pattern of the birth of the two sons of Tamar (Genesis 38:27-30). First-born Zerah extended his hand out of the womb and the midwife “tied a scarlet thread on his hand, saying, “This one came out first.” So, first Remnant Zerah received the rights of the first-born. And then, of course, the breach came—Perez Christianity was breach, the midwife now declaring, “What a breach you have made for yourself!” (“Perez” means “breach.”) And then the one with the scarlet thread on his hand was born, the second Remnant now coming forth.

Zerah—Perez—Zerah

And as well, this was the pattern of the two birds of Leviticus 14. Verse 4 states: “... then the priest shall give orders to take two live clean birds and cedar wood and a scarlet string and hyssop for the one who is to be cleansed.” The first Remnant first bird is killed over running water and its blood collected in an earthen vessel, and then the second Remnant second bird is dipped in the blood of the first bird, along with the scarlet thread and other items. So we see attested once again that the scarlet thread, which was there for the entire process, was a critical part of insuring that the second Remnant second bird would ascend alive.

And finally, Rahab, the harlot, was preserved alive as well, along with the others with her, by tying a scarlet thread in her window: “We shall be free from this oath to you which you have made us swear, unless, when we come into the land, you tie this cord of scarlet thread in the window through which you let us down ...” (Joshua 2:17-18).

So, we ask a vital probing question for this critical moment in time: What is the scarlet thread in the two thousand years of the church that (1) insured that the two-part Zerah Remnant had the right of the first born, (2) insured that the second Remnant second bird would not die, and (3) insured that the household of the first Remnant harlot and the second Remnant would be preserved alive when the trumpet sounds and all the people of Israel shout (Joshua 6:20). This is also spoken of in 1 Thessalonians 4:16-18, which will be quoted shortly.

Clearly, this matter of the scarlet thread is specifically tied/related to the Bride. So again, what specifically is the scarlet thread that is clearly attested per both the first Remnant and the second Remnant? In truth, that thread must span the entirety of the two thousand years of the church, like unto the testimony of Pisces.

So, what can endure a period of two thousand years that is this scarlet thread? None other than Satan, who thereby keeps the office of the twelfth apostle alive and available the entire time. Satan, who is the “scarlet beast” in Revelation 17:3, is the essential scarlet thread: “And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness; and I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast, full of blasphemous names, having seven heads and ten horns.” This woman is mystery Babylon Christianity who commits harlotry with the world; and the scarlet beast, Satan, is the scarlet thread that keeps the office of the Elijah alive for two thousand years! Amazing and wonderful to behold!

Judas—Satan—Elijah

Yahweh uses evil to preserve the way for good. And this is equally the period of the church where the kingdom is corrupted—the breach! Again, it is staff—serpent—staff! And the fact is that Satan preserved the staff work through those two thousand years. He entered into Judas in order to do evil. He gained and had that office out of his own pride. But he has now lost that office, as did Haman, and that to his shame as well! Now he must lift up the “Mordecai”! Thus the office held by Satan now turns to good and deliverance.

This is MOST amazing! And only if you plow with the heifer can you see and understand these things. They are preserved for the Bride. Blessed be Yahweh! And we are grateful for the scarlet thread, for with it, as promised to Rahab the harlot and those with her, we will not die! We too have committed harlotry with the world, but Yahweh will have mercy on us. And instead of dying, we will ascend alive, equally at the sound of the long, long awaited trumpet! Amen!

And with further relevant and amazing evidence, for six days the Israelites marched around Jericho in complete silence, and for six thousand years Jericho has been marched around in complete and utter silence. For six thousand years man has not known what Yahweh God has been doing, and will now know and understand. Only the Elijah and the Bride have had their eyes opened to see. And now on the seventh day the trumpets will sound and there too will be the long awaited shout!

For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who are alive and remain will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we shall always be with the Lord. Therefore comfort one another with these words (1 Thessalonians 4:16-18).

We, the Bride, will finally enter into the true Promised Land—being carried up into heaven, being there with Immanuel for fifteen days, and return in born-from-above bodies to rule and reign with Him. Amen, and praise Yahweh forevermore!

The Lord our God has obtained the victory, and Satan, the scarlet thread, has in truth availed the office of Judas, the twelfth apostle, to a man today. And, this is the like testimony when in the dream I went down into the cave of death and stood in the place of Judas, the twelfth apostle. And, I have now taken up the serpent by the tail, the end. Blessed be Yahweh forever! Amen!
